September 12-13, 2017
State College, PA

Call for Presenters

PAFPM is seeking session proposals on topics that provide insight into linking projects, programs, agencies, funding, and resources, related to floodplain management. We’d like to provide information to the floodplain management community about what has been or could be done to bridge existing gaps that exist between identified risk and real solutions. What are some of the ways we can work toward more effective floodplain management, and ultimately create more resilient communities in Pennsylvania?

Fill out an online session proposal form here or visit the PAFPM website.

The deadline to submit is June 30, 2017.

Registration Information coming soon!
